Finding funding for Ministry Projects or churches can feel like a daunting project. Join the United Thank Offering (UTO) on Thursday, September 21 at 12:30pm Eastern time for a 90-minute panel discussion (with time for questions) on grant opportunities from UTO, the Church Periodical Club (CPC), and the Episcopal Women's History Project (EWHP). Please note: the first portion of the event will be recorded and shared after the event, however, when the moderator opens the Q&A portion it will not be recorded because individuals will be invited to come on screen and share their questions with the panel. Notes will be taken, however, and available with the recording about ten days after the event.

Meet the panel:

The Rev. Judy Graves (she/her), President of the Church Periodical Club, has been active with CPC for approximately 25 years. She was appointed as the CPC Diocesan Director for South Dakota by Bishop Robertson, and then in 2012, she was invited to be the Province VI Representative on the CPC Board, she continues to hold both positions in addition to being the president. Judy serves as a deacon at Good Shepherd Episcopal Church in Sioux Falls, South Dakota. To learn more about the Church Periodical Club visit: <https://churchperiodical.com>

Joyce Landers (she/her) (Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast) serves as the Vice President of UTO. Joyce lives in Troy, Alabama with her husband, Stephen, of 34 years. She has two boys. She is a Medical Technologist and works in a non-profit pediatric office. Joyce has served in many roles at her home parish of St. Marks' in the Diocese of the Central Gulf Coast including the vestry, licensed lay reader, Lay Eucharistic Visitor and the choir. She has served on the Diocesan Cursillo Commission and is currently serving on the Diocesan ECW Commission. Joyce has been serving as the Diocesan UTO coordinator since 2012 and joined the UTO Board in 2015 and served as the Province IV UTO Representative. She was elected Vice-President in 2018, and she is incredibly grateful for her time with UTO.

The Rev. Rowan Larson (they/them) is the incoming Vice President of UTO and the Assistant Rector of Christ Church Cambridge in Harvard Square where they work closely with children, youth, families, and young adults. Their passions in ministry include formation for all ages and theology of and for LGBTQ+ Christians of all ages. They live with their wife, Kelsey (she/her), and three cats, Bronwyn, Bleu, and Cedric, in Cambridge. Rowan competes in dressage with their horse, Ramsey, and is a fiber artist, Dungeons and Dragons nerd, and lover of the outdoors.

Sandra Squires (she/her) is Professor Emeritus from the University of Nebraska at Omaha. As a special education teacher, she taught children and youth, and later taught teachers to work with children with special needs. Many years ago she worked as the Diocesan Youth coordinator, as a parish Christian educator, and has been a leader in Daughters of the King, Episcopal Church Women/Women's Ministries, United Thank Offering, and Episcopal Women's History Project. She has been honored both by her diocese with the Bishop's Cross and by the ECW as Nebraska's Distinguished Woman in 2018. Her current goal is to tell the stories of women in the Episcopal Church. Meet the moderator:

Moderator: Sherri Dietrich (she/her) serves as the Board President of UTO. Sherri lives gratefully in Maine with her wife, cats, chickens, and gardens. Her "day job" is indexing and editing books, so she basically gets paid to read books every day. She is a firm believer in the power of gratitude to change lives and the world, and is dedicated to spreading the ministry of gratitude throughout the church.
